Numb. 132.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, July 31, to Saturday, August 7, 1736.

LONDON, May 20.

THis Day his Majeſty went out to the Houſe of Peers, and put an End to the Seſſions of Parliament by a moſt gracious Speech from the Throne, to the following Effect viz.

That the Diſpatch they had given to the Publick buſineſs, and the advanced Seaſon of the Year, made it proper to put an End to this Seſſion of Parliament.

That at their firſt Meeting He informed them, that Preliminary Articles had been concluded between the Emperor and the moſt Chriſtian King; ſince which Time, a further Convention concerning the Execution of them had been made, and communicated to Him by both thoſe Courts, and Negociations were carrying on by the ſeveral Powers engaged in the late War, in order to ſettle the General Pacification.

That He thanked the Commons for the Proviſions they had made for the Service of the current Year; telling them, that they could never better recommend themſelves to His Eſteem, and to the good Opinion of thoſe they repreſent, than by raiſing the Supplies neceſſary for the Support of His Government, and the Service of the Publick, in a Manner the moſt effectual, and the leaſt burthenſome to His People.

That it was a great Concern to him, to ſee ſuch Seeds of Diſſenſion ſown among his good People, as, if not timely prevented, might prove very prejudicial to the Peace and Quiet of His Kingdoms; That it was His Deſire, and ſhould be his Care, to preſerve the preſent Conſtitution in Church and State, as by Law eſtabliſhed, perfect and entire, and not to countenance any Attempts to the Prejudice of either. That good Harmony, and mutual Affection among all the Proteſtants of this Nation, had been the great Security of the preſent happy Eſtabliſhment, from the Revolution to this Time; by which united Strength they would be able to reſiſt the ſecret and open Attempts of our common Enemies; but divided, they might become a Prey to them. That His Protection ſhould be impartially diſpenſed to all his Subjects, in the full Enjoyment of their Religious and Civil Rights; and that He deſired they would be careful, by their Conduct in their ſeveral Stations, to make His Endeavours for their common Happineſs effectual.

That it being neceſſary for him to viſit His German Dominions again this Year, He had reſolved to appoint the Queen Regent here, during His Abſence; and doubted not, but that the Experience they had already had of Her juſt and prudent Adminiſtration, would engage them all to make the Weight of the Publick Affairs as eaſy to Her, as Her wiſe Conduct would render the Government agreeable to them; and that He recommended this to them in a particular Manner.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majeſty's Command, Prorogued the Parliament to Thurſday the 29th of July.

Stirling in Scotland, May 6. Some Time about the Beginning of laſt Month, there happened in this Neighbourhood, and along the Foot of the Ochel Hills, a moſt terrible Earthquake, there being two ſevere Shocks about 11 o'Clock in the Forenoon; and betwixt 12 and 1 at Night, three more, which were each Time attended with a great Noiſe under Ground, and rent ſome Houſes; and ſo frightned a great many People, that they fled out of their Houſes.

About the ſame Time died here Wm. Wright, Weaver, aged 106, who, ſome Weeks before he died, fell into ſuch a fainting Fit, that his Wife cauſed him to be dreſs'd as dead; and ſome Hours after, while the Neighbours were in the Room drinking at the Late-wake, he roſe up, and called for a Drink in Courſe, which ſo alarmed them, that they all fled the Houſe.

Venice, May 14. Yeſterday our Senate declared this a free Port, which has cauſed an univerſal Joy here.

The most learned Members of our Accademy of Sciences, are to travel as far as they can towards the North-Pole, to find out the true Form of the Earth: And as this Discovery will be extremely useful in Navigation, the King of Sweden has promised them his Protection, and the Attendance & Assistance of the most skilful Mathematicians of the Kingdom.

Vienna, April 25. The Corpse of the late Prince Eugene has been exposed since the Day before yesterday, lying on a Bed of State in his Palace, he lies booted and spurr'd, and dress'd in the Uniform of his own Regiment. On his Right is his Sword and his Truncheon, or Staff of Command, a cross; also his Hat and Gloves on a Cushion. Towards his Head is placed his Ducal Cap, with the Collar of the Order of the Golden Fleece. On his Left is the Bonnet of the Order, being black Velvet border'd with Gold Lace: On the same side lies the superb Sword and Hat, sent him by Pope Clement the 11th, after his Victory over the Turks at Belgrade; his Helmet, Breast-plate and Gauntlets hang over his Head. The Crowds to see him are innumerable; and the great Hall where he lies in State is all set round with little Altars full of lighted Tapers.

Hamburg, April 30 O. S. The last Letters from Petersburg say, that a Plan is published there of the City of Asoph, and and of the Field of Battle of the Russian Army posted along the River Don to the black Sea, for the Space of 15 Leagues, which is fortified with a double Entrenchment and 10 Field Pieces; that on the 30th of March last, the Count Munich summoned the Governor, by a Trumpeter, to surrender the Place in a fortnight's time, or else that he should be made Prisoner of War with all his Garrison. They add, that the Place is victualled only for two Months.

The Baron de Keyserling received an Express from his Court the 16 Instant, with Advice that the Russian Troops before Asoph had taken all the Forts and Outworks of the Place; that they had also made themselves Master of both Sides of the River towards the Sea Della Zabeche, and consequently of all the Avenues by which any Succours may be thrown into it; and that the Russian Flota can now go to Constantinople itself upon Occasion. It is added, that in Fort Luttich, which in the first Siege of Asoph cost the Russians so much blood, Count Munich found 20 Pieces of Cannon, most of them Brass, & made the Commandant & 50 Janisaries Prisoners of War.

Paris, May 26. According to the last Letters from Corsica, 3 more Ships without Colours were arrived there with Troops, Arms and Ammunitions of War; and that Baron de Neuhoff had taken Bastia, the only Place which the Genoese had in their hands, and was afterwards proclaim'd and acknowledged King, and crowned with Laurels in an open Field, in the middle of his Troops, and of thousands of Spectators, with the loud Huzza's of the Multitude who cry'd, Long live King Theodore the first: And 'tis added, that before his Coronation, he signed a kind of a Magna Charta, which is in Substance, that all Employments should be conferred on none but Natives, of which the Troops also shall intirely consist, except 1500 Foreigners, whom the King may have for his Guard.
